

Beyond “the Birds and the Bees”

Talking Honestly About Sexual Health

Join Planned Parenthood Arizona’s Teen Advocacy Group for a fun and interactive workshop series that both empowers and educates Tucson teens on what it means to be sexually healthy. Snacks will be provided, and fun prizes will be raffled off at each workshop!

October 11: Parent and Teen Night

For both parents and their teens! Participants will examine personal values and attitudes about sexuality and sexual behavior, and develop skills to have honest conversations about sexuality.

Where: Child and Family Resources, 2800 E. Broadway

When: 6:00-8:30 p.m.

October 25: Sexual Health and You

High school aged teens are welcome to attend this workshop to develop skills to reduce the risk of unplanned pregnancy or contracting a sexually transmitted infection. Participants will also create a personal definition of what it means to be a sexually healthy person.

Where: Catalina United Methodist Church, 2700 E. Speedway

When: 6:00-8:00 p.m.

November 8: LGBT 101

Presented by Wingspan, LGBT 101 is a primer course for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender definitions, vocabularies and what all the letters mean (queer, questioning, intersex, self-identified, two spirit, allied and others).

Where: Wingspan, 425 E. 7th Street.

When: 6:00-8:00 p.m.

To RSVP for one or all of the events, call the Teen Advocacy Group at 520.784.5818 or email TAG@ppaz.org no later than two days prior to each workshop.

Please give the names of all participants, specify which workshops you are attending, and leave a phone number so we may confirm attendance.
