

TEEN CLINICS

A Manual for Developing and Managing Teen Clinic Programs

Teen Clinic is a free walk-in clinic for adolescents - the goal is to improve teens' access to reproductive health services and to create a safe, confidential, non-judgmental and teen-friendly atmosphere in the clinic. Since 1998, Planned Parenthood in Western Washington has found teen clinics to be a highly effective means to bring large numbers of teens into clinic settings for health services and sexuality education.

This manual provides logistic and educational resources for reproductive health organizations to add a successful teen clinic to existing clinical programs, including:

- Program setup
- Scheduling
- Advertising
