In 2016, construction began on our Spokane Health and Community Education Center. We have received incredible support. Thank you for making this long-time dream a reality.

We are also proud to have completed our first year operating health centers in Wenatchee, Moses Lake, and Okanogan.

We celebrated as our Pullman Health Center reopened just five months after a devastating arson attack on the building. You helped us rebuild and continue providing care to those who need it most.

We thought the worst was behind us.

Now we have an administration that has already made countless harmful decisions, attacking those most vulnerable, including millions of people who depend on Planned Parenthood.

Today, we call upon you to rise up and fight like never before to protect reproductive rights and access for all people. Together we can ensure that these doors stay open.

In Solidarity,

“Every generation, men, women, everyone needs to come together now to rise up for reproductive justice and make sure that there is NEVER a time when a woman doesn’t have the right to make her own health care decisions.”

A CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

Building a Movement

When Sharon Smith and Don Barbieri look at the Inland Northwest, they see strength. Through their foundation, the Smith-Barbieri Progressive Fund, Sharon and Don build on the power of local community organizations addressing systemic causes of poverty and injustice. In that spirit, Sharon and Don have become leaders in reproductive rights and health care accessibility. Their lead gift of $500,000 for the Smith-Barbieri Health and Community Education Center will enable Planned Parenthood to continue to provide the most advanced reproductive health care and education in the region for years to come.

Our Patients: The Center of What's At Stake

Planned Parenthood is built on ensuring that no one in our communities goes without basic health care.

All of our health centers are located in medically-underserved areas where providers are limited, and 63% of our patients live below the Federal Poverty Level. We've seen before that when extreme politicians prevent Planned Parenthood from serving these patients through federal programs or restrict our ability to provide financial assistance, individuals, families, and communities suffer the consequences.

For these patients, everything is at stake.

No one understands this reality more than Morgan, a patient in Ellensburg:

"It was my freshman year of college when my health faltered. My period was irregular, incredibly painful, and would leave me sick for days. I suffered through it because my parents and I didn't have much money - I was scared how much health care would cost.

Then I found Planned Parenthood. The providers there discovered I had a health issue that could have made me infertile or subject to dangerous pregnancies if left untreated. I got the treatment I needed that day, at no cost.

Today, I am relieved to be healthy again and to know I'll be able to have a child when I'm ready, all because money wasn't a barrier to receiving care at Planned Parenthood. In my eyes, the staff are like family."

- Morgan, Ellensburg patient

Provider Profile: Jaheda's Mission

"I grew up in Afghanistan, in an area where women had few rights. While teaching forensic medicine at Kabul University Medical School, I encountered the body of a 16-year-old girl. She had been stabbed to death by her husband because he thought she wasn't a virgin.

The experience led me to do research that debunked myths about physical indicators of virginity - there are none. I published the research, and today it is still used in courts to defend women, saving them from lifelong shame or even death.

I began working at Planned Parenthood 30 years ago because I wanted to continue empowering women. Each day, I fight for every patient's right to stand on her own two feet and make her own decisions. I'm here for them, no matter what."

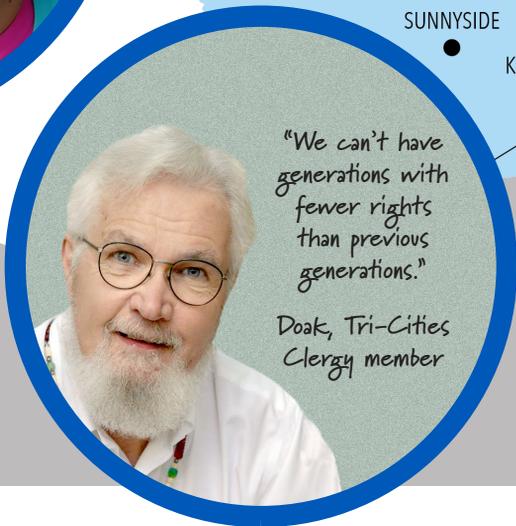

- Jaheda, Clinician

"Before my wife passed, we were patient escorts together. Everyone deserves health care free from harassment or intimidation. I continue to be here for patients in her memory."

- Gary, Spokane volunteer

Our Mission

The mission of Planned Parenthood of Greater Washington and North Idaho is to provide exceptional reproductive and complementary health care, honest education, and fearless advocacy for all.

Care. No matter where.

Our Vision

Reproductive health care and education are fundamental rights for all people. We are here to provide the resources and tools people need to be healthy, plan their futures, and achieve their dreams.

Teens Helping Teens

Peer education is the most effective way to educate young people. Our 24 Teen Council peer educators delivered 50 classroom presentations on adolescent health, reaching over 600 teens with medically-accurate information.

House Calls for Health

Promotores de Salud is the only Latino sexual health program that meets families where they are, giving nearly 300 presentations in homes, health centers, and community spaces throughout Yakima County. Breaking through language barriers and cultural taboos, these adult peer educators connected over 700 people to critical information and health care.

"I've invited Planned Parenthood educators into my classroom for over 10 years. They've always provided vital information to students and families that is unbiased and medically accurate."

- Jennifer, Teacher at Riverview High

"Having control over your body is the most important way that you take control of your political future."

*- Meg, Generation Action

Building Youth Power

Generation Action campus groups harness the power, energy, and enthusiasm of young people to fight for reproductive freedom and for fundamental justice for all. Involvement has doubled in the last year, with groups at six universities. Generation Action teams use grassroots organizing to empower fellow students, host rallies, register voters, and promote sexual health education and resources. These leaders play a critical role in helping others embrace their health and political power, securing their futures. They're in it for the long haul, heading the most diverse fight for reproductive rights in our history.

New Health Centers in North Central Washington

As a nonprofit provider, we go where the need for health care is greatest. North Central Washington faces some of the highest rates of teen pregnancy, STIs, and provider shortages in the state. This year, we were proud to partner with three communities - Wenatchee, Moses Lake, and Okanogan - to operate health centers and increase access to quality health care, outreach, and education. Together, we will create healthy communities for all.

"Planned Parenthood provides the outreach, education, and funding that a smaller organization cannot. It's critical for a community like Wenatchee to never lose these services."

- Emily, Wenatchee patient

Advancing Abortion Access

As the only abortion provider in Central and Eastern Washington, we see patients from as far away as Montana traveling for safe and legal care. To address this inequity, we continued expanding our abortion services. This year, we began offering medication abortion in Pullman, reducing the travel burden on patients from surrounding remote and medically underserved areas.

"Abortion is such a politically charged term. It's health care."

- Josey Fast, Yakima donor

Removing Barriers to Care

Restrictions to abortion care impact women with low incomes most. To help address this inequity, The Starr Family contributed $20,000 in 2015 to establish an abortion fund for local women in need of assistance.

Thanks to their generosity, so far 66 patients have been able to access abortion services who would have otherwise faced barriers to this care. Abortion is basic health care for women, and now more than ever we need supporters to join us in increasing access in our communities.

In 2016, The Starr Family continued their support of Planned Parenthood and accessible abortion services with a $20,000 donation in support of the surgical procedure room within our new Spokane Health and Community Education Center.

"When abortion rights come under attack, women with low incomes lose access first. Everyone should have access to the full range of health care options, no matter what."

- The Starr Family

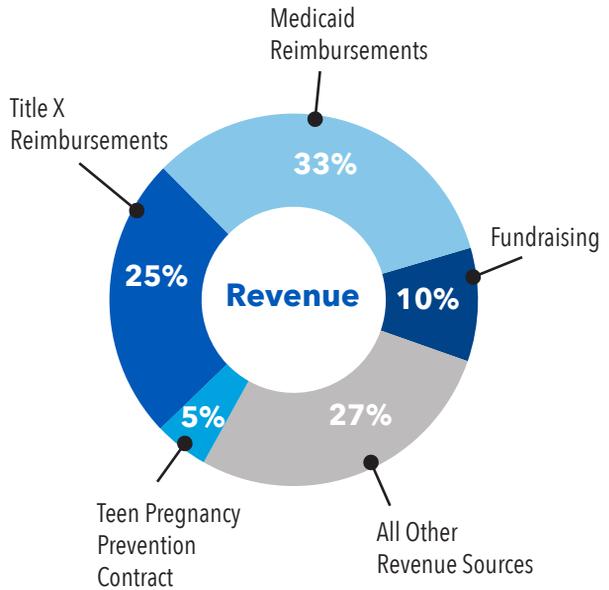

Extreme politicians who want to shut down Planned Parenthood know our role as a key safety net provider in our communities. That’s why they’ve sought to block us from serving patients through federal health care programs, and to limit our capacity to provide financial assistance to those in need. We need your support now more than ever to continue serving all people – regardless of income, insurance, or background – with essential preventative health care.
