Responding to COVID

As a health care organization, appropriately responding to the threat of COVID-19 was a top concern for Planned Parenthood. Staff continually worked to prevent transmission of COVID in our health centers, which remained open throughout the pandemic.

In addition to keeping patients and staff safe in our health centers, Planned Parenthood also ramped up access to telehealth services in response to the pandemic. Thousands of local patients got their health care from the safety of home in 2020, via the PP Direct app.

Together with our communities, we advocate, educate and provide health care to support sexual health and wellness for all. Thanks to you, our generous supporters, Planned Parenthood is here for every person, every family, and every community – making meaningful change a reality.
About Teen Council

Regularly meeting online, engaging in group chats, and participating in distance learning opportunities, all 37 Teen Council groups are growing peer education skills through virtual trainings.

Teen Council facilitators have risen to the incredible challenge of bringing a program designed to be facilitated in-person to a virtual space.

8,746 Youth Reached

Every peer educator reached 86 youth in 2020
